

Ep 18 – The Capture of Captain America

- -Spidey in a comic at the beginning. Very meta. Nice to know he exists in the comics universe in this one too.
- -Is it me or did this episode look "older" than the others? Grainy? Sound mixing seems muffled? Maybe just not as polished? Like they didnt remaster this one like the other episodes
- -2:30-Origin story of Cap! And done in a clever way
- -JJJ's a total cap fanboy but still finds a way to monetize it for himself.
- -5:00 - Red Skull! Awesome! And i love how hes animated and voiced. I also like that he has a cap action figure. And his hygiene habits (he gets on one of his goons for not bathing if i recall?)
- -6:25 - The Return of Spidey Sense! Yay!
- Cap looks really cool and sounds good too
- 9:30 - Even MORE damage to Spidey/PP image and PR. Honestly, at this point, I would just move to another city if I were him
- -I liked the return of the kids with comics and throwing them away. Shit got real
- -12:00 - Well, now im not so sure of Skull's accent. Seems a little over the top.
- -12:40 - FINALLY a plan to "clear Spidermans name". Way to be proactive Spidey!
- -13:30 - I liked PP/Spidey doing the cap voice. Not bad
- -14:00 - More Cats!
- -I like this mind swap thing. I like how Red Skull did it first, THEN showed us how. SHows that he thought this through and has been planning this for a while.
- -18:00 - Better wrap things up here! Save the day Spidey!
- -Marvel Team Up! With cap's shield!
- -Why do villains always call spidey "insect"? He's an arachnid. 8 legs guys, come on. Do your homework!
- -Kinda a creepy ending to Red Skull's demise. Spirits and whatnot.
- -20:00 - Cap offers to give Spidey a parade? and he says no?! Kinda a flimsy excuse too
- Not a bad episode, nice seeing Cap, but couldnt get past the grainy look. Felt like i was watching a snuff film or something
